JOURNALISM WEEK.

Next week the University will be favored with a visit by some of the most noted journalists in the United States. The program that Journalism Week offers should interest not only students in the School of Journalism but those in other departments. Besides those who are scheduled to speak, many newspaper men will come to hear and see.

It will be a rare treat to hear these men, matured in the work, talk from their years of experience. All those who will speak are successful men. They have achieved success after laborious years. Their advice to us therefore, should be heard with eagerness.

The advantages of Journalism Week to the newspaper men of the state are obvious. It affords the man opportunity to come in contact with others of like interests. They can hear the latest in "shop talk." And they can also see the latest. They can see the modern method of making newspaper men, and they can see the latest improved models of type-casting machinery. The Mergenthaler Company and the International Company are both sending their latest models here as special exhibits for Journalism Week.

Journalism Week, like Farmers Week, is conducted for the good of the people of the state. The University and the School of Journalism desire to cooperate with the newspaper men in their work. The week will both inspire the students with enthusiasm for their chosen profession and make the visitors feel well repaid for coming.

The Kansas City postoffice used eighteen checks to pay an ice bill of 56 cents. Is that why they call ours a government of checks and balances?

OPPORTUNITY FOR GOOD.

Saturday morning a number of the members of the Y. M. C. A. will start on a campaign to raise $700, all of which will be used to decorate the part of the building used by the public.

Not a cent has been spent on the building since it was opened four years ago. All of the money that is to be raised will go toward decorating the lobby and the club rooms.

Over one hundred organizations used the "Y" for a meeting place last year. There were parties and entertainments for everyone. It has become the meeting place for students and a place for the freshmen to get acquainted.

The Y. M. C. A. was built from money given by men who can never hope to get any direct benefit from it. They wanted to furnish the building so students who came after them could use it. Now the students who are getting the benefits have a chance to help keep it in repair. Only University men will be asked to help in the work. The "Y" is a part of the University. It belongs to everyone in school. Everyone should give a little to help maintain it.

THE SMALL FARM.

Opposite tendencies are to be seen in agricultural development. One is the movement for more and smaller farms; the other is the rise of large corporation-controlled ranches. An example of the latter is the great farm of Charles P. Taft in Texas. On this farm everything is done on a tremendously large scale. A host of employees under superintendents and sub-managers do the work of growing the raw materials and turning them into finished food products. It is said that this plan increases efficiency and lessens cost of production. But, like the capitalist-controlled industrial concerns, it will lessen the independence and make wage slaves of the masses.

It is argued, on the other hand, that the hope of greater happiness and thrift for our people lies in more and smaller farms. Farming on a small scale, it is said, will produce larger profits and an easier living for those who till the soil.

Owing to the rapidly rising land values the movement for small farms is appealing both to city and country residents. By farming on a small scale the rural family will escape much drudgery, more people can own farms and city families can obtain commodities at lower prices. Small farming means intensified farming, greater profits and greater attractiveness in country life.

The Seventh Column

Now comes "History" in a communication to a St. Louis paper and says Sherman didn't remark that war was hell. Perhaps it wouldn't do to print just what Sherman did say.

Perpetual motion—the Oklahoma capital.

They'll have to get down on their Japanese and ask for land in California now.

A packet of Browning's love letters brought $32,750 recently. Some love letters of live rich men bring nearly as much through breach of promise suits.

Every one will want a picture of Miss Evelyn James of San Antonio. Her likeness is going to appear in the new currency.

Kansas U. has bested Missouri U. in the contests so far this year, but there is one consolation. A Missouri girl was chosen queen at the K. U. May Day celebration.

It doesn't take so much money to get married after all. A Chicago man has been discovered who has two wives and seven children. He has been leading this double life on $12 a week too.

A 17-year-old Arkansas boy who differed with his teacher and used a knife to enforce his point has been sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

A ban seems to have been placed on Democratic hardware. McCombs and McAdoo are the two latest to bury the hatchet.

Policemen in Chicago are going to wear bullet-proof jackets. Perhaps Mexico will import a few of these latest-style coats for its government officials.

A physician says if children were encouraged to eat onions, much illness might be prevented. Besides, the little ones would not be kissed so often by gushing women.

The man who wears suspenders has been justified. A suspender buckle saved a St. Louis husband by stopping a bullet fired by his wife.

Other diplomats may have to follow Mr. Bryan's grape juice lead. Reports from Germany predict a shortage of Rhine wine.

When the heroes of Manila Bay dined recently, Admiral Dewey read a poem. Before any one gets funny, it may be well to remark that the admiral didn't write it.

Most people will agree that the two salt cellars that brought $18,375 in a London art relic auction were good sellers.

A Mr. Short of Joplin was held up by a long man on a train near Kansas City.

A Princess Indira, daughter of the Gaekwar of Baroda, has jilted Prince Jitendra, son of the Maharajah of Cochin Behar, probably because they couldn't get all those names on the invitations. M. H.

IN TENNIS MEET WITH K. U.

University of Missouri Will Compete in First Dual Meet of This Year.

The first dual tennis meet of the season will be with Kansas, Saturday, May 17. Both the single and the double teams will compete. The men on the Varsity team now are: C. E. Swartz, captain, C. C. Woods, S. A. Underwood, H. E. Humphrey, H. C. Cox, and S. T. Chang. Any of these men can be challenged for one game by any student other than freshmen. If the man he challenges loses the game a new man takes his place on the Varsity squad.

Prof. Miller to High Hill.

Prof. H. M. Miller of the College of Agriculture departed last night to attend the country life conference at High Hill.

ON VISIT AFTER 43 YEARS

Ed E. Leake of California Comes to See Brother.

"Any young man with energy, enthusiasm and judgment can succeed in journalism," says Ed E. Leake of Woodland, Cal., who has been in the newspaper business for thirty years. Mr. Leake departed today for St. Louis after a visit at the home of his brother, D. L. Leake, 211 South Seventh street. He expects to come back for Journalism Week.

Mr. Leake was born near Hannibal in Ralls County and a few days ago visited the place of his birth, sleeping in the same room of the old house in which his cradle stood fifty-three years ago, he says. He went to California 43 years ago. He has been a member of the California legislature and for three terms was chief clerk of the general assembly. He was afterwards commissioner of public works.

"I like Missouri," said Mr. Leake. "I think by coming back next week I can meet some of my old friends for I know many of the editors of the state. You know in 1882, I stumped the state for Champ Clark when he was running for Congress. As a member of the California Press Association I extended a cordial invitation to attend the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915, for which we are making great preparation."

When the Missouri Press Association made a tour of California twenty years ago, the special train stopped at Woodland, Dean Walter Williams and E. W. Stephens were guests of Mr. Leake at dinner.

Mr. Leake publishes an eight-page daily paper in a town of 5,300. His sons, Edward I and Paul R. Leake, are associated with him in the office.

"The anti-alien land bill will become a law in spite of the protest of the national government," says Mr. Leake. "Californians are practically unanimous in favor of it. So are the people of other states who know conditions as they exist in California."

GOLF TOURNAMENT THIS WEEK

Meet is for Purpose of Selecting Final Players.

A preliminary golf tournament will be played on the golf links today and Saturday. The tournament is for the purpose of selecting the classes of players who will play for the cups offered by the golf club in the final tournament to be held next week.

The players are divided into classes of eight players each. Each class depends on the skill of the players. Any person who is enrolled in the athletic department and has paid the fees for this semester is eligible to compete. In the games last year, G. E. Linden, an instructor in gymnastics, won the cup for class A; G. E. Reeder, director of the United States Weather Bureau, won the cup for class B and George Kirk a senior last year, won the cup for class C.

MADE CAKES TO COMPARE EGGS

Miss Findley Used Some Fresh Ones. Some Laid in February.

Two cakes which were made by Miss June Findley, a senior in home economics, are now on exhibition at the Dairy Building. One was made from fresh eggs, the other from eggs that were laid in February and traveled over 900 miles on different agricultural demonstration trains sent out by the College of Agriculture. There is said to be practically no difference in the quality of the two cakes.

CADETS PRIZE DRILL SOON

Companies Are Preparing for Competition for the Cup.

The cadet companies are preparing for the annual competitive drill which will take place soon. Company B won the cup last year in this contest. There will also be a competitive drill for the privates, with a medal for the best-drilled man.

J. V. NEBEL, M. U. ALUMNUS, DIES

Graduate of School of Law Succumbs at Montgomery City.

John V. Nebel died of tuberculosis at his home in Montgomery City yesterday. Mr. Nebel was graduated from the School of Law of the University of Missouri in 1898. He is a former state representative and served as prosecuting attorney of Montgomery County for one term.

J. B. Powell Buys Another Lot.

J. B. Powell, instructor in advertising in the School of Journalism, this morning purchased from M. H. Pemberton a lot in Dorsey's Addition on University avenue, just off of College avenue. The lot adjoins another purchased by Mr. Powell in the Pemberton lot sale last week. Mr. and Mrs. Powell will build a home on one of these lots this summer.

Talk by Professor Rankin.

Prof. J. W. Rankin will speak at the meeting of the Philological Association in Room 36, Academic Hall at 8 o'clock tonight. His subject will be "Concerning the Origin of Rime."

LAST CHANCE TO SEE TIGERS

Tomorrow's Meet With Aggies Final Contest for Track Men Here.

A "run for your money" and your last chance to see Captain Nicholson, Kirksey, Wickham, Breckner and Knobel run for Missouri is what C. L. Brewer promises in tomorrow's meet with the Kansas Aggies on Rollins Field. The meet will be called at 3 o'clock and will be the last home meet for the team. The four men named are seniors and this is their third year on the team.

"I think Missouri will win," said Professor Brewer this morning. "We have the better balanced team. The races ought to be especially good, as the Aggies have two really remarkable men. Gates, their sprinter and quarter miler, and Hutto, captain, miler and two-miler, can be counted on to make the Missourians work their best."

"Gates will run against Knobel in the quarter and may beat him unless Knobel does the distance in faster time than he has of late. Hutto defeated Wickham in the K. C. A. C. indoor meet in March and our distance man is hoping for revenge this time. The hundred, the two-twenty, quarter, mile and two-mile and the relay ought to be exciting races."

"Missouri is in fairly good shape. Chapman, miler, is out for the rest of the season. Finley will run, although he is not in the best of condition on account of recent illness. Hutsell is just recovering from a spiking in the Drake meet, but he will run in the relay at least. The other men are in good condition."

The Aggies arrived this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

Missouri has enough men in the hurdles, jumps and weights to win the meet. The entries are: 100 yard dash—Agiess, Gates, Hancock; Missouri, Kirksey, Knobel and Lake. Mile run—Agiess, Hutto, Collins, Schneider and Baird; Missouri, Wickham, Kaine, Hogan and Findley. 120-yard high hurdles—Agiess, Young and Root; Missouri, Nicholson and DeVinna. 440 run—Agiess, Stone, Gates, Sutton, Musser and Jones; Missouri, Knobel, Hupp, Porter, Breckner and Hutsell. 220-yard low hurdles—Agiess, Young and Root; Missouri, Kirksey, Shepard, Groves and Thatcher. Half-mile run—Agiess, Hutto, Baird, Taylor, Gates, Williams and Schneider; Missouri, Murphy, Troxell, Hupp and Knobel. 220-yard dash—Agiess, Gates, Hancock, Jones and Musser; Missouri, Kirksey, Lake, Porter, Knobel and Groves. Two-mile run—Agiess, Hutto, Collins, Schneider and Baird; Missouri, Hurst, Terry and Wickham.

One mile relay—Agiess, Stone, Jones, Musser, Gates, Hutto and Collins; Missouri, Hutsell, Murphy, Hupp, Groves, Breckner, Knobel, Porter and Thatcher. Pole vault—Agiess, Young; Missouri, Talbot and Floyd. Discus—Agiess, Smith and Stone; Missouri, Thatcher, Drumm and Groves. High jump—Agiess, Root and Young; Missouri, Nicholson and Shepard. Shot-put—Agiess, Smith and Marble; Missouri, Kemper, Thatcher and Drumm. Broad jump—Agiess, Stone and Smith; Missouri, Nicholson, Kirksey and Shepard.

To Experiment in Atchison County.

J. C. Hackelman of the College of Agriculture departed last night for Trenton and Rockport, in Atchison County, to work on some corn-breeding experiments.

Pictures taken any time, any place.

YOUR PICNIC LUNCHES

will not bother you if you will let us prepare them.

...for salads, sandwiches, punch and fruit you should come to us for the "home-like" kind.

...the cost will be reasonable, cheaper than you can possibly prepare yourself.

...if it's an early morning breakfast, we will have it ready for you the night before.

THE PALMS

It's a step from the campus.

REGULARS BEAT SCRUBS, 8-2

Basereunning of Centerfielder Wrench Feature of Faculty Game.

The faculty regulars beat the faculty scrubs yesterday by a score of 8 to 2. H. F. Schulte, pitching for the scrubs, was hit hard and opportunely by the regulars, while Field, working in the box for the winning team, held the scrubs safe.

The basereunning of Wrench, centerfielder for the regulars, was very sweeping in its character, as that player ran all over the outfield and around the batters' bench in scoring from first on a three-base hit.

Anderson, of the scrubs, drove out a long triple in the fourth inning and Field found Schulte for two long drives. The two catchers, Brewer and Ardzooni, showed class, the latter throwing well to the bases.

The lineup:

Regulars: Field, p.; Burrows, 1b; Gainey, 3b; Ardzooni, c; Scott, rf;

Wrench, cf; Parmelee, 2b; Shepard, ss; Colburn, lf.

Scrubs: Brewer, c; Schulte, p; Ross, 1b; Kempster, ss; Reese, 3b; Heaps, 2b; Simpson, rf; Anderson, lf; Tarr, cf.
